¹⁾CZK 0 for a variant bearing no interest (the account balance bears no interest) / CZK 129 for a variant bearing interest (the published interest rate is credited to the account balance).

²⁾CZK 0 for a variant bearing no interest (the account balance bears no interest) / CZK 50 for a variant bearing interest (the published interest rate is credited to the account balance). The fee is debited to the business account of the trustee of the assets in bankruptcy.

³⁾The account statement fee is charged retrospectively. If statements are generated on a monthly basis, the fee charged at the end of the current month applies to the statement for the previous month (e.g. the fee for the May statement will be charged at the end of June).

2.3 Additional fees for account maintenance the bank may charge the client

Additional fee for account maintenance from the increment in the client's deposits, provided the total volume of funds deposited for all currencies as of 31 December is less than CZK 100 million	free of charge
Additional fee for account maintenance from the increment in the client's deposits, provided the total volume of funds deposited for all currencies as of 31 December is greater than CZK 100 million	0.15% ¹⁾

¹⁾ The total volume of a client's deposits consists of funds held in all of the client's accounts, including term deposits and deposit notes in all currencies. The term "account" also applies to an individual account opened for safekeeping third-party funds with a notary, lawyer, bailiff or auctioneer, or an individual account for administering an insolvency estate held for a liquidator (hereinafter referred to as the "Client"), irrespective of who the beneficial owner is (hereinafter referred to as the "Beneficial Owner"). In escrow accounts and accounts for administering an insolvency estate, the balances of all accounts of the same Beneficial Owner are aggregated for the purposes of assessing whether the limit of CZK 100 million has been reached. The fee is calculated according to the difference between the total volume of deposits of the Client/Beneficial Owner as of 31 December of the respective year and the average daily balance of deposits of the Client/Beneficial Owner from 1 September until 30 November of the same year. If this difference is negative, the fee is zero. The fee is charged annually and may be debited from any current account held with the bank in January of the following year. When foreign currencies are converted into CZK and vice versa, the CNB's foreign exchange middle rate valid as of 31 December of the respective year applies.

2.4 Customer fees for over-limit deposits

Fee for customer deposits up to and including the specified limit in the relevant currency	free of charge
Fee for customer over-limit deposits in EUR, for volumes over 1 mil. EUR	0.5% p.a. ¹⁾
Fee for customer over-limit deposits in CHF, for volumes over 1 mil. CHF	0.5% p.a. ¹⁾

¹⁾ The fee for customer over-limit deposits equals the multiple of the fee rate and the base. The base equals the difference between the customer's daily balance in EUR, CHF and the aforementioned limit. If the base is negative, the fee equals zero. The daily balance consists of the customer's funds deposited on all the customer's accounts, including term deposits and depository bills of exchange in EUR, CHF. The term "account" also refers to an individual account intended for safekeeping funds with a third person, such as a notary, advocate, executor, auctioneer, real estate agent, or an individual account for asset management kept for an insolvency administrator, regardless of the beneficial owner of the funds. For escrow accounts and asset management accounts, the balances of all accounts of the same beneficial owner must be summed to assess whether the threshold of 1 mil. EUR or 1 mil. CHF has been achieved. The fee is calculated on daily basis, charged monthly and can be deducted from any of the customer's current account during the following month.

¹⁾ An initial value for a fee calculation is in principle calculated according to the estimated value of the investment instruments held at the calendar quarter-end date (or, at the contract termination date), irrespective of the investment acquisition date (i.e. 0.05% quarterly rate or CZK 75 as a minimum). The fee is always debited on the 15th day of the month following the quarter's end, or, proportionately upon contract termination. UniCredit Bank has made maximum effort to estimate the value, having based itself on the prices provided by third party depositories or by other relevant data providers operating on the market. Prices provided by third parties are referred to as either market prices or their estimated values. Nominal values of the held investment instruments, or, the technical figure 0.000001 may be alternatively used in place of the price as a rule where the market value or estimated value of the held investment instrument is unavailable. If the CSDP (i.e. Central Securities Depository) has included the held investment instruments in the list of issues for which no securities maintenance fee is charged, the technical figure 0.000001 must be used without exception.

While UniCredit Bank considers the sources trusted and provides information obtained from them in good faith, it is nevertheless unable to guarantee and therefore assumes no liability whatsoever for this information's up-to-date status, completeness and correctness, and hence, no liability for that information. The presented values and prices do not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any of the above investment instruments.

²⁾ The surcharge for clients who do not have an account maintained at UniCredit Bank is CZK 200.

CSDP: Central Securities Depository Prague

Note: In addition to UniCredit Bank's fees for providing custody/administration services listed above, the client reimburses costs paid by UniCredit Bank to third parties, especially the fees of CSDP.
